Sensations: this wine reveals its extractive pulp's maximum thickness and power together with the most harmonious and limpid grace proper of technique and nature. In each caress given, which is effusive pure softness, everything is composed for an aroma and taste of sweet blackberry jam. Here sensed with a mantle of vanilla spices that are so candidly and brilliantly integer to be lymphatically proactive. Velvet glycerin's brocade that conveys the quintessential spirit of Greece in its most impressive fruit. Only viticulture and enology at their top, only the perfection of the elements and the environment, only human applicative devotion for such a universal, iridescent effusive pleasantness. With its balsamic fruitiness, pure soothing of absolute sensorial virginity. Among the best red wines ever, a masterpiece of symbiosis between original viticultural virtues and oenological derived.
